

AQUINAS INSTITUTE
BLACKFRIARS, OXFORD

ANNUAL COLLOQUIUM

AQUINAS AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF LAW

Saturday 2nd March, 2019, 9.30am - 5.00pm

Blackfriars, St Giles, OX1 3LY

"Development" conveys notions of improving, refining, advancing – change for the better. While Aquinas did not think that eternal wisdom could improve, he did hold – perhaps surprisingly – that natural and divine law could develop in some fashion. The Colloquium will explore the development of human, natural, and divine law as well as the contrast with eternal law. The speakers will discuss how theories of law treat changes in law itself or in the understanding of law.

Prof J. Budziszewski (University of Texas)

Of Course Human Law Develops.

Can Natural and Divine Law Develop?

Prof Ryan Meade (Loyola University, Chicago)

When Should or Shouldn't Human Law Change?

Ethics and Assessing Legal Code

Dr Jonathan Price (University of Oxford)

Hugo Grotius and the Shrinking of the Natural Law Doctrine.

Richard Conrad, OP (Aquinas Institute)

The Revision of Civil Law: The Torah Exemplifies Aquinas' Principles

Buffet lunch provided, with donation of £10 requested at door (£5 students/unwaged) To register:
